Silence Hides Meetings

What is happening behind the scenes in the consultations of the Irish parties preliminary to the renewal of the conversations between De Valera and bloyd George on Monday is screened by what Sir James Craig this morning termed "a rigid silence."

Sir James used this phrase in explaining to interviewers his belief that everything depended upon the way the question was handled.

"The slightest indiscretion or misprepresentation," he said, "may easily cause incalculable harm. What will best aid the attainment of peace is for every one concerned to withold comment outside of official consultations.

The De Valera headquarters was bombarded this morning with requests for comment on various published reports as to terms, concrete proposals and decisions alleged to have been made during the talks on the peace question already held, but to all inquirers the official rejoinder was:
"We are pledged to secrecy. These reports are pure fabrications, out of the minds of their writers, and are wholly unwarranted."

BELFAST, July 16 (By The Associated Press).—Sir James Craig, in a message to a war memorial meeting in Castle Dawson, County Londonderry, to-day declared that the British Empire, for which the soldiers in whose monor the meeting was held made the supreme sacrifice, would never be weakened by any action of his.

"You may all rest assured," said Sir James, "I will see to it that the empire in whose cause they so nobly laid down their lives is not weakened by any action of mine. They trusted us to give nothing away and their trust will not be betrayed."

DUBLIN, July 16 (By The Associated Press).—Commenting upon the conference between Eamon de Valera and Prime Minister Lloyd George in London, The Irish Bulletin to-day declared:

"If a peaceful settlement should be denied, the Irish people will resume armed resistance to foreign domination. They possess the will, and, by endurance, the power to bring their fight eventually to success."

bring them home.

It was explained that they are mainly heavy draft horses for which there is no local use and that they had to be fed on imported fodder. The nearest possible markets are India and Egypt, but the difficulties and cost of transportation thence are said to be prohibitive. Shipping men say it costs $40 to $50 to bring a horse from the East to England, not counting horsemen's wages.
